

Embracing Dignity: Race Equity, Privilege and our Shared Humanity

A Small Class Highly Interactive Depth-Training in Equity and Inclusion Facilitated by:
Dan McKee & Tovi Scruggs-Hussein

Within this time of great uprising over racial inequity and oppression, there exists — alongside the pain, grief, righteous anger of this soulful struggle — an opportunity for more of us to wake up and take responsibility in creating healing and change through our willingness to deeply feel and learn, and our commitment to learn tools and build bridges.

This workshop series is for those who wish to embrace such a desire and commitment — to explore in a depth rarely available the learning and skill-building to be an awake and useful participant in this human experience of racial, gender and class equity; in the pursuit of shared dignity.

Our initial focus will be on anti-racism / race-equity, and we'll additionally explore male privilege and sexism, heterosexism, and classism.
